

ALL-WHEELS PARK NOTICE TO RIDERS

SAFETY INHERENT RISK EXCLUSION OF LIABILITY

Riding the New Denver All-Wheels Park involves risk of injury, including serious injury, head injury, paralysis, or death. The risk of injury increases with the degree of difficulty of the activity, and speed. Although risk of injury can never be eliminated, the rider can manage the risk through controlled speed, and choosing terrain appropriate for the rider's skill level and experience.

All people using the New Denver All-Wheels Park do so at their own risk. The Village of New Denver and North Slope Trails Society are not responsible for and accept no liability for any damage, loss, injury, or death claimed or suffered by any person related to the access of this park.
